CITY'S WATER PROBLEM SOLVED

Lower Electric Rates Here Effective On March 1 Fail To Meet City's Demand

Councilmen Say Application For Greater Reduction Will Be Made At Once

A new schedule of electric rates estimated to save Southern California patrons of the Edison Company more than a million dollars a year were announced yesterday by the State Railroad Commission to become effective March 1. The Commission's decision in the matter followed a series of hearings extending over a period of several months and will affect more than 100 communities.

The saving to average householders and business houses in Sierra Madre will be slight. The new schedule does not meet the demand of Sierra Madre's council that consumers of electric current in this city be given the same rate as is charged in the neighboring cities of Arcadia and Monrovia.

In announcing its new schedule the Railroad Commission in a statement said that it "expects to order a complete new revamping of rates for street lighting in the near future for the various municipalities served by the Edison Company."

Members of the city council last night were of the opinion that at the next council meeting a resolution would be adopted re-submitting to the Railroad Commission a request that electric rates enjoyed by Monrovia and Arcadia be extended to Sierra Madre.

The Railroad Commission's statement says that "Sierra Madre residents and customers receive savings as high as 12.1 per cent, depending on the amount of electricity used." However, a schedule included in the statement shows that the average family will benefit very little.

Under the present rate schedule the electric bill of householders using 100 kilowatt hours a month is $4.75. Under the new schedule the bill would be $4.65, a saving of 10 cents or 2.1 per cent. Where 150 kilowatt hours are used, and the bill is now $7.00, it would be $6.15 under the new schedule, a saving of 85c or 12.1 per cent.

Both of these amounts are considerably higher than those in Arcadia.

City's Police Chief Outshoots G-Man Instructor

Gordon G. McMillan, Sierra Madre's Chief of Police, made high score Wednesday afternoon at a shoot at the Pasadena police range in Eaton's Canyon. About thirty "pupils" in the Federal Bureau of Investigation school, police officers from many San Gabriel valley cities, took a lesson in combat shooting, but Chief McMillan did even better than the teacher, whose score was 89. McMillan made 91, but the chief modestly says "it might not happen again in a hundred years" and "anyway we were not shooting in competition—it was just a lesson."

YOU'LL MEET INTERESTING NEIGHBORS IN THE NEWS

SIERRA MADREANS will shortly meet a lot of their interesting neighbors in the columns of THE NEWS. They will be introduced by Miss Miriam Osness who has interviewed and is writing a series of short sketches about a number of delightful town-folk. The sketches are snappy and entertaining and beginning next week one will appear in each issue of THE NEWS.

Many of the subjects selected by Miss Osness are people who render services that contribute in a big way to the enjoyment of life and security in Sierra Madre, yet who are seldom seen and little talked about. For instance, when you turn a tap and draw a drink of water you probably don't know and never hear of those who are responsible for that tap responding. When you call a doctor in the middle of the night you probably haven't any idea who the voice that answers you on the telephone belongs to, but she is a very interesting person and she renders a highly important service. You will enjoy meeting her and all the other fine people that Miss Osness is talking to and writing about.

Miss Osness, by the way, is a neighbor, too—a Sierra Madrean.

Supervisors OK Paving Program

Allocate Gas Tax Money For Labor; Property Owners To Buy Materials

Sierra Madre's 1940 street improvement program has been approved by the county supervisors and an allocation of $3,213.77 of gas tax monies was authorized to carry it through. The tax money will be used for labor and rental of equipment and property owners will pay materials cost. This was the arrangement under which several streets were improved last year. Money from property owners must be deposited 100 per cent on escrow at the Sierra Madre Savings Bank before work can start on any thoroughfare.

A resolution adopted in December by the city council calls for "installing curbs, gutters, drainage structures, grading, paving with rock and oil macadam and otherwise improving" the following thoroughfares: Alegria avenue between Baldwin and Mountain Trail avenues; Mariposa avenue from Michillinda and Sunny-side avenues; Park avenue between Ramona avenue and Sierra Madre boulevard; Montecito avenue between Auburn avenue and a point 134 feet east of Auburn avenue; Mountain Trail avenue between Laurel avenue and Mira Monte avenue, and Baldwin avenue between Highland avenue and Sierra Madre blvd.

It is hoped that the work will get underway in April when the rains are over. The street to be improved first will be the first one on which all property owners have deposited materials costs.

Season's Rainfall Here Now Is Far Above Normal

Sunshine and warm breezes had Sierra Madreans on the verge of spring fever early this week when the temperature went up to 78 Tuesday. All week both the maximum and minimum temperatures were a little above normal. Col. H. B. Hersey, weatherman, said. Yesterday morning .02 inches of rain fell, first for the week. Gales raging off the Oregon-Washington coast were expected to unleash rain on almost all of the state today. Temperatures for the week were:

	Maximum	Minimum
Feb. 16	69	42
Feb. 17	68	46
Feb. 18	68	43
Feb. 19	72	47
Feb. 20	78	48
Feb. 21	74	57

Total rainfall for the season, 19.13 inches; normal for season to date, 14.98; last year to date, 14.99.

Early Decision On Food Stamp Agency Is Expected

A decision as to whether or not food stamps will be issued through an agency in Sierra Madre is expected within the next few days. The matter has been referred from the Sacramento office of the SRA to the Los Angeles office, which apparently will make the decision. The city council received a letter this week from Assemblyman T. Fenton Knight announcing that he had joined with the council and the Chamber of Commerce in requesting that the local Red Cross chapter be designated as a stamp distributing agent here. Supervisor W. A. Smith of this supervisory district also joined in the application.

Start Taking Census Here On April 2

Nose counting in Sierra Madre is scheduled to begin April 2. Those seeking jobs as census takers and others desiring information regarding the forthcoming survey may call at the application and information office at 39 East Union Street, Pasadena, which opened Wednesday and will remain open each Wednesday until the middle of March from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Charles Hixon, assistant supervisor of the census in the 11th congressional district, will be in charge.

Sixty census jobs will be open in the area which includes Pasadena, Altadena and Sierra Madre, and the work is expected to take two weeks. The pay rate has not been definitely set, but it will probably be about four cents per name, which will make it possible for the workers to earn approximately $5 per day. Applicants will be given a preliminary examination after the application has been filed. Those accepted will then be trained for the job.

Kingdon H. Hicks, district supervisor for the census, who maintains headquarters in Glendale, obtained the temporary Pasadena office through the California State Employment Service which is located at that address.

Second Operation On E. D. Burbank Improves Condition

E. D. Burbank underwent a satisfactory second operation at Huntington Memorial Hospital yesterday morning. According to reports he went through it even better than the first operation, a few weeks ago, and his condition is reported as very favorable.

Relocate Light And Power Lines On Orange Grove Ave.

Culminating about six years of discussion and negotiating, operations began this week on East Orange Grove avenue preparatory to relocation of the Pacific Electric Company's power lines. The city council granted the company a 20-year franchise last October for the maintenance and operation of poles and high tension power transmission lines at Orange Grove and Baldwin avenue as an adjunct to its railroad. The franchise is restricted to poles along the south side of Orange Grove avenue.

The California Water & Telephone company Tuesday began moving cross arms and its wires to make room for the Pacific Electric lines which will be installed within a week or ten days. It was necessary for the city to fill in a ditch at the south side of Orange Grove avenue before the California Water & Telephone Co. and the Southern California Edison Company poles could be moved from the north to the south side of the street. This was done last summer and material used for fill-in came from construction of the road at Santa Anita Dam.

Sierra Madre Not In High Water Area

Sierra Madre definitely is not in the part of Los Angeles where water levels in underground basins are higher now than at any time during the last 15 years, as announced in the annual report of C. V. Castle, acting county farm adviser. The city's January, 1940, water level, 157 feet, is pretty much in line with figures for the past several years, a chart at the city hall discloses. In January, 1928, the water level was 151 feet, and in January 1939, the figure was 142 feet.

Wednesday Last Day To Register Before Election

NEXT Wednesday, February 28, is the last day for registration of voters before the municipal election to be held on April 9, at which four city officials will be chosen.

Any citizen who was not previously registered, or who has moved since the last election, who has or will become of age before the municipal election and all newcomers to the city who are registered where they formerly resided, must be registered now in order to vote at this city election.

Citizens may register between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the city hall and anyone in doubt as to his eligibility to vote should make inquiry there. The city hall, of course, is closed at noon on Saturdays.

Boddy Is Out Of Congress Contest

State Appointment Eliminates Him From Eleventh District Fight

Manchester Boddy, Los Angeles daily newspaper publisher and a resident of La Canada, has definitely eliminated himself as a possible Democratic congressional candidate in this, the 11th district. Democratic leaders throughout the district had been bringing heavy pressure to bear on Boddy but his recent appointment to a state position by Governor Olson was given by him this week as the reason for his decision not to be a candidate.

Assemblyman Elmer Lore, North Hollywood printer, a Democrat, has given notice that he will seek both the Republican and Democratic nomination for Congress. C. Stuart Hamblen, hill-billy yodler who was defeated by Congressman Carl Hinshaw, also expects to again seek the Democratic nomination, and Thomas Watson of Glendale, who was defeated for the Republican nomination two years ago, has done what the leopard is reputed to be unable to do, and has announced himself now as a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Although he has made no statement on the subject it is generally accepted as a foregone conclusion that Congressman Carl Hinshaw will be a candidate to succeed himself and as yet there is no announcement by a Republican candidate to contest with him for that party's nomination.

Neither has there been any announcement for candidates for the Republican or Democratic nomination for the assembly in this, the 48th Assembly district, though it is believed there is no doubt but that Assemblyman T. Fenton Knight, resident of La Canada, will make formal announcement of his candidacy for reelection immediately after adjournment of the special session of the legislature now being held at Sacramento.

Work On Santa Anita Channel Will End Next Thursday

Formal notice was given yesterday by Administrator Herbert C. Legg of the WPA that the $199,991 project for the reconstruction of the Little Santa Anita Channel within the city limits of Sierra Madre will be completed by February 29. Nearly 200 men have been employed on the project most of the time for almost a year. They began under the Santa Anita Dam and worked down to Santa Anita avenue where the water is carried off in the flume constructed some years ago by the subdividers of the Cook Woodley tract. About June 1 WPA will begin work on the big Santa Anita channel through Arcadia, the project having been approved and the money appropriated.

Tribute Paid Brave Woman At Service

Sierra Madreans mourn the loss of one of its residents in the death of Mrs. V. J. Coyle. To those who knew her she was a faithful and sincere friend. She had suffered from asthma for years and after repeated attacks since Christmas, died unexpectedly February 13, 1940. Left to mourn her loss are her husband; two children, Vincent and Christine; Mrs. Frawley, her mother; and a brother.

The Rosary was recited on Thursday evening at Grant Chapel by Rev. Augustine Scannell, C.P. The funeral took place from St. Rita's Church February 15, with mass at 9 o'clock, celebrated by the Rev. Eustace Eilers, C.P., an intimate friend of the Coyle family. The school choir sang and other school children formed a guard of honor during the procession and the recessional.

After the mass the Rev. Eilers gave a eulogy on the beautiful life Mrs. Coyle had led. During his funeral sermon he said:

"It isn't necessary for me to recall to your minds the virtuous life of Honore Coyle. She was true to her religion and to God, performing her religious duties as well as her health would permit and sometimes beyond it. She was very conscientious about her duties as a mother to her children, and her responsibilities were her first thought. Many a time when I have visited her home, I told her to take it easy. She wanted to live and to live for her family. She tried everything in the world to recover her health but without success..."

"Honore Coyle has given us an example how to live and how to die. She carried her cross of sickness without complaint and with resignation. Let us bear in mind the same spirit, for everyone of us has a cross to carry and we need to be encouraged to bear it well."

First Aid Class Is Being Organized By Red Cross

Sierra Madreans interested in American Red Cross first aid work are urged to attend a meeting Tuesday evening, March 5, at the city hall, when enrollments will be taken and a definite meeting night selected. The class will be open to anyone 17 years of age or older, and the only expenditure will be 60 cents plus tax for text book, and two or possibly three bandages. Twenty hours will be required by each person in order to receive a First Aid certificate as issued by the American Red Cross. Instruction will be by Joe Swanson, chairman of the first aid committee.

Camp Fire Girls In Ceremonial Council

The professional march at the Council fire held by Yallani and Tawa Namu groups of Camp Fire girls recently was led by Phyllis Young and Wanda Cole, who respectively presented and explained the symbolism of the flag of the United States and the Camp Fire Girls flag.

After the fire lighting ceremony by Lois Fontaine the Winkles candles were lighted and honors awarded. The response and explanation of honor beads was given by Betty Garrison, Geraldine Ward, Alice Burnham, Nadine Noble and Margarita Gonzales.

The closing speech was given by Lela Pickett, president of the Tawa Namu. The closing ceremony of extinguishing the candles was given by Donna Mae Bennett, Henrietta Burnham, Betty Jean Askew, Louise Perry, June Ross and Josephine Mendoza.

'39 Fire Loss Here Sets A New Record

Damage Of Less Than A Thousand Dollars Believed To Set Pace For State

Ripley ought to get this one. Believe it or not that in Sierra Madre whose population is estimated by various authorities as between 5,500 and 6,000 there was a fire loss of only $970 during 1939. There were only 14 calls on the fire department, and one of these was a false alarm. Four were for grass fires on vacant lots before the weed nuisance was abated early last summer, and three were for automobile fires. One was caused by greasy rags carelessly thrown in a private garage.

Only five alarms were caused by fires in dwellings or other buildings. Two of these five were in old outbuildings where the damage was negligible. The total fire loss on buildings was only $520 and on the contents of homes and other buildings only $450.

On a population conservatively estimated at 5,200, the per capita fire loss was $1.875, believed to be the lowest in the state of California and reflects not only great credit on the city's volunteer fire department rated as one of the most efficient in the state, but on the thoughtfulness of local citizens who are mindful of the proximity of the Angeles forest and the incalculable damage that would follow a fire that spread into that area.

Secretary Joe Swanson of the fire department completed his report for the year yesterday and it will be presented at the next meeting of the city council. It shows that the departments' first aid crew answered 17 calls during the year, exclusive of those made during the annual Mt. Wilson trail race early last summer.

Caukin Appointment As Postmaster Is Finally Confirmed

Appointment of Ray O. Caukin as postmaster of Sierra Madre was confirmed by the United States Senate on Monday and any possible doubt as to his tenure is removed. Mr. Caukin received a telegram from Washington Wednesday morning notifying him of the senate's action. Early this month Mr. Caukin's name was sent to the senate by President Roosevelt.

INTERESTING HISTORY OF PTA TOLD AS LOCAL CHAPTER OBSERVES 43RD ANNIVERSARY

Honoring the 43rd anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parent Teachers Association, members and friends of the Sierra Madre PTA chapter observed the occasion with a St. Valentine's luncheon and program in the grammar school cafeteria February 15.

Mrs. A. L. Hamilton of Pasadena, oldest living past president of the California PTA Congress, was guest speaker and gave an interesting and descriptive talk on the early history of the association. Describing the founding in 1896, Mrs. Hamilton said that the idea for such an organization was conceived by Mrs. Alice Pike Birney who interested Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst in her plan, and through the joint efforts of these two women the organization then known as the Congress of Mothers, was established at Washington, D.C., on February 17, 1897. A few years later the name was changed to the Parents Teachers Association. The first such organization in California was formed in 1900 and now has a state membership of 140,000.

Acquires 760 Acres That Include Little Santa Anita Watershed

Through the purchase of an undivided half interest in 760 acres of water bearing land extending from its northern boundary three fourths of the way to the summit of Mt. Wilson, Sierra Madre yesterday solved its water problem for all time, assuring itself of its ability not only to take care of any increase of population within the present city limits, but to offer an adequate supply for any likely additions to the community.

At an adjourned meeting Saturday, February 17, the city council entered into an agreement with Judge and Mrs. Silas S. Richards, of Ohio, to purchase an undivided one-half of the A. G. Strain estate property which extends over the Mt. Wilson trail and slightly above the Mt. Wilson toll road.

Experts have estimated that this area in the little Santa Anita watershed is extremely rich in water resources. Purchase price of the undivided 50 per cent of this land was $3,500 or $7,000 on the basis of full ownership. The other undivided one-half of the estate is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Martin, the other heirs of the Strain estate who now live at and operate Orchard Camp, which occupies a part of the purchase.

The lowest price at which this land was ever previously offered was $16,000. Control of the water resources of this area which is over one-half the present size of the city, serves a two-fold purpose. Of primary importance is the fact that water taken from the stream flow and developed from springs in the upper canyon is not affected by the present water litigation between the city of Pasadena and various cities including Sierra Madre overlying and adjacent to the Raymond basin.

While the city has the right to the entire canyon flow, this purchase will enable it to develop springs at the various sources of the stream. Additional value to the city will accrue, due to the saving in power costs of pumping.

PTA Issues Call For Women To Sew For The April Fair

The sewing committee of the Sierra Madre PTA met at the home of Mrs. R. H. Pickett Tuesday and some work was given out to volunteers. There is need of more members to help with the sewing.

There will be a meeting next Tuesday, February 27, at the home of Mrs. C. L. Young, 214 Olivera Lane. All who have finished work are urged to bring it so it may be displayed. There is still material to be given out and all who can help with the sewing are urged to be present and take home some article to finish. These will be on sale at the P.T.A. Fair, the first week of April and the funds therefrom used for welfare work.

Adding greatly to the celebration was the delightful program given by the school children, for which Lela Pickett acted as mistress of ceremonies. Three Camp Fire girls gave the salute to the flag; David Smedley, talented young pianist, gave two solos, and the Girls' Glee Club directed by Miss Mary Pfahler and accompanied by Mrs. Yelda Adams, sang two numbers. Joan Woehler, Marion Carleton and Floretta Keith recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Jean Askew playing the accordion and Mary Kathleen Scoville the marimba, concluded the program with "God Bless America." They were accompanied by Miss Pfahler.

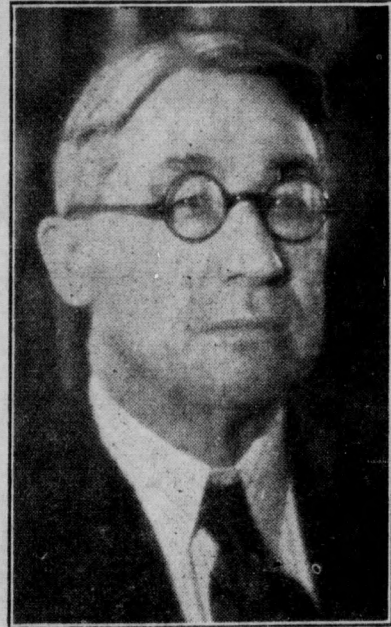

Luncheon was served by Mrs. John Claus and her committee of room mothers who were assisted by Camp Fire Girls. Miss Florence Lusted was in charge of table decorations which were carried out with spring flowers and valentines. Past presidents of the local association who attended were Mrs. Johnson Irish, Mrs. Paul Carter, Mrs. Ford L. Pierston and Mrs. Edward A. Davey.

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' Round

A CHARMING portrait of Cheryl Key, who portrayed "Liberty" on Sierra Madre's prize-winning Tournament of Roses entry, "Land of the Free" is on exhibit at the A. J. Dewey studio. The painting is by Dewey and shows Miss Key in profile seated before a window in the white satin, gold cord trimmed gown she wore on the New Year's pageant. Miss Key's radiant personality is splendidly portrayed. We did not see a full length painting of "Miss Liberty" by Bernard Wynn. It is probable that the Dewey painting will be exhibited later at the city hall where all of Sierra Madre may have an opportunity to view it. A bottle of hooch of the "good old prohibition days" that was actually "aged in wood" came to light recently at the Sierra newsstand. The concoction is a home made variety "aged" during the years in an old fashioned wooden victrola. Victrolas of that type have been relegated to the attic for a long time and liquid "aging" within its wooden chest lost none of its stinkiness, according to Emil Smith who says a number of Sierra Madrans have recognized the brand as the product of the city's most prosperous bootleg purveyor during the prohibition era.

Scarlet O'Hara will influence Easter styles in bunnies according to G. P. Rikeman, whose shop always wins honors for clever window displays. Soon to appear in the store will be a shipment of Easter toys and dolls, and among them will be a "Gone With the Wind" number.

We have heard of the delicious ravioli at Lizze's Trail Inn but just recently experienced gastronomic delight in the plump, tender sauce covered morsels. They told us than an unusually large number of hikers trek their way to Orchard Camp and while a part of the trail has been torn up a bit because of putting in the new road to the firebreak, so many hikers go back and forth that any brush which might stick up in the path is promptly worn down to a flat surface.

Young Japanese men and women, members of the Associated Christian Youth which met at Bethany church last weekend, interested us greatly. The girls smartly dressed in twos and threes, visited stores in the business district, and although they didn't have much to say, their merry eyes danced when they looked around.

The Fashion Frock Of The Week

AN EARLY SPRING MODE
as worn in Hollywood by
PATRICIA ELLIS
Star of Screen and Radio

One of the latest style innovations from Paris for spring is the new long sleeve frock as shown here for this week's fashion. And it is as practical as it is fashionable. The long sleeves afford protection from early spring chills and from the hot sun rays of midsummer. The little jockey collar, marbled buttons and a trim patent leather belt complete the details. The fullness over the bosom and the flared skirt that swirls and swishes are so very flattering. Miss Ellis has here made in spun rayon in a rich beige shade. Tailor fastener in side placket keeps the waist slim and trim. It's a frock of real smartness and suitable for afternoons or informal evenings.

Out Of The Ordinary Polo At Riviera Club Sunday

Del Monte, with a strong lineup, will gallop against a Riviera polo squad at Riviera Country Club Sunday afternoon. Willie Tevis, popular aviator-poloist, and Angel Elizalde, called the best poloist in the Philippines, will both ride for the Del Monte four while Kay Colee, a speedy player, and Tex Austin, colorful and high powered performer, will be among the Riviera heavy hitters.

These two teams have some fast horses, among the best on the coast. Colee, Tevis, Lee Baker, who will ride for Riviera, and Elizalde are all very well mounted malletmen, so that something out of the ordinary in the way of malleting hay-burners will be seen Sunday.

HENRY KAMPERTS HAVE A BABY DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kamper of West Sierra Madre Blvd., are the parents of a daughter, born last Saturday, February 17, at the California Lutheran Hospital in Los Angeles. The baby who weighed seven pounds 12 ounces at birth, will be christened Susan Jean. Mother and daughter are progressing well and will return home the latter part of next week. Mrs. Kamper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Olds, 633 West Sierra Madre Blvd.

The truest test of character is the way in which one accepts disillusionments, trials and tribulations.

YOUR HOME AND MINE

BY ANNE WILSON

Toast can be the basis of some excellent desserts. You can make it quickly in your electric toaster, combine it with the other ingredients and have a delicious last course which was little trouble to make.

Chocolate Crunch

Melt 5 squares of unsweetened chocolate. (If you have an electric range, its measured low heat enables you to melt the chocolate in an ordinary pan directly upon the surface unit, eliminating the bother of a double boiler.) Combine 2 cups of crisp dry toast, cut in 1/4-inch cubes, with 1 cup confectioners sugar and 1/2 cup broken nut meats. Add to melted chocolate and blend well. Serve heaped in sherbet glasses topped with whipped cream and maraschino cherries. This recipe makes 6 servings.

Cherry Pudding

Cook 3/4 cup canned red cherries with 1/2 cup juice and 6 tablespoons sugar slowly for about 10 minutes until sugar dissolves. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt. Combine 6 slices of toast cut in 1/2-inch cubes with 1/4 cup chopped nuts, 1/4 cup seedless raisins (softened over hot water), 2 tablespoons chopped candied orange peel and 2 tablespoons melted butter. Add 2 additional tablespoons sugar to cherries and add to toast mixture. Mix well. Pour into a greased casserole and bake in a 375-degree oven for 40 minutes, or in individual casseroles from 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with whipped cream or hard sauce. Serves 6.

With Sierra Madre Students At Wilson Jr. High

Bob Evans is the new safety commissioner at Wilson. Speaking of the new building, he said, "With only a few rooms now in use, it is rather difficult to keep things running smoothly in the new wing. As yet, there has been very little trouble, but when the rest of the wing is put into use, the congestion threatens to disrupt conditions until a system is evolved to keep traffic running smoothly."

Seven Sierra Madre students have been named safety officers: James McLeod, Jim McCormick, Billy Schwartz, Vance Askeew, Junior Grippi, and Bert Embree.

Armida Grijalva, 10-2, was awarded an "advanced" penmanship certificate, and James McLeod, 10-2, received a "grammar school" certificate, climaxing a semester's instruction. A sample of each student's work was sent to Columbus to be graded.

Five new rooms are now in use in the new south wing. As soon as all the rooms are finished, mathematics, science, foreign language and home economic classes will be in the new wing, leaving social science and English classes grouped in the older building.

NUMBER OF VISITORS STILL INCREASING

According to a traffic summary compiled by the Department of Agriculture a total of 528,088 foreign and passenger cars entered California during 1939. Compared with the figures for out-of-state cars entering the State in 1938 it shows an increase of 93,727 passenger cars. The checking station at Yermo on U.S. 91 recorded the greatest number of foreign cars, with a total of 81,967. Second in line was Truckee with U.S. 40 with a figure of 75,415.

Women's Spring Fashions Influenced By Europe's War And Gone With The Wind, Drop Back 70 Years

"Gone With the Wind" and the European war will be two determining factors in 1940 spring fashions, declares Miss Pauline Lynch, assistant professor of home economics and clothing instructor at San Jose State College.

"Gone With the Wind" will turn the clock back 70 years, she says. The European war is having a profound effect on fashions throughout the world. Small sailor hats worn tilted forward, navy blue, and military braid trimming in the new costumes are examples of its influence.

Afternoon dresses will be lengthened to 16 inches from the floor—or three inches longer than they were last year. These dresses will sport hip yokes and will be flat draped. Sleeves will be of kimono or straight type. These replace the full sleeves which have been in vogue for several years. There will be many unpressed seams and pleats. For older women, fashion decrees the "sheik" type dress which tends to slinkiness. These same general specifications apply to evening gowns.

Miss Lynch picks gray, blue, rose, navy blue, pastels and colorful prints to dominate the color scheme, and jet to predominate in costume jewelry.

PASADENANS TO GET SOFTER WATER

Softer water for Pasadena was promised when the $3,000,000 water softening plant being erected in the San Dimas district is completed and Metropolitan Water District water is turned into the mains. Professor Franklin Thomas, Caltech engineer, at a Pasadena meeting this week said the process, which will require the consumption of 100,000 tons of salt a year, is expected to reduce the hardness of the Colorado River water by two-thirds. The water will then be softer than that now received from Morris Dam.

A STIRRING ANSWER

For more than a century and a half in America, and for slightly less than that time in the leading nations of Europe, freedom of religion, of the press, and of speech, have been taken for granted.

Today we know those freedoms can no longer be taken for granted. Even before the second World War turned back the clock still further they had disappeared, within the brief span of a few years, from a large section of Europe. The hope that America might wholly escape the brutal doctrines of force and persecution to which many foreign nations have succumbed have not been altogether fulfilled. Voices of hate, desirous of stirring up strife because of religion, race or politics, have been heard on these shores. It is therefore timely and fitting that American churchmen of all creeds should have set aside the period, February 18 to 25, as Brotherhood Week and to have enlisted the thoughtful participation of worshippers of all faiths in its observance. Such a "week" as this is worthy of a democracy and, what is more, only a democracy could do full justice to it.

It was just 151 years ago this week that American states were in the process of ratifying the Constitution which established the framework of a Federal republic and, in the soon-added Bill of Rights, set forth a Magna Carta of liberty, guaranteeing freedom of religion, of speech, and of the press. Dedicated to a re-emphasis of the blessings we enjoy under that Magna Carta of freedom, the nationwide observance of Brotherhood Week is a stirring and challenging answer to the voices of disunity and hate who oppose democracy's abiding faith in the brotherhood of man.

"Much of the apathy over taxes arises from the supposition by the majority that the national tax bill is paid by the rich. The breakdown of taxes on necessities demonstrates that, rich or poor, the consumer pays taxes on what he consumes or uses. When this fact fully penetrates public understanding, there will be more popular interest in public spending and in getting the money's worth. For, whether you be rich or poor, it is your money the politicians are spending."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Legislative Comment

By T. FENTON KNIGHT
Assemblyman 48th Dist.

COOL heads that deal only with facts have been at a premium in the State Capitol for the last week. Emotional appeal has been the order of the day ever since the new unemployment relief bill was first introduced. Those opposed to the measure are heatedly accused of Communistic thinking in their approach to the problem while those sponsoring the bill are branded with equal emphasis as being niggardly and miserly in their aid.

Governor Olson's thinly veiled threat to veto any appropriation substantially below the amount named in his original request, delivered to the Assembly shortly before the first test vote on the relief bill, only added fuel to the flames of vitriolic oratory that swept up through the Capitol dome Saturday afternoon.

If a workable plan to relieve unemployment within the taxpayers ability to pay is evolved at this session it will not be due to the display of oratorical pyrotechnics that has been staged in Sacramento but rather to the calm thinking of a few members of both sides who are diligently separating the kernels of fact from the clouds of chaff that are swirling about their heads.

In spite of all the confusion prevailing here in Sacramento there are three factors that stand quite clearly. There are still many thousands of worthy unemployed citizens who need and will continue to receive public aid in order that they may not want for the bare necessities of life. It is also quite evident that the administration of unemployment relief under state supervision lacks the efficiency and economy that would justify its continuance without major reforms. It appears equally true that our present tax ratio stands at a factor of safety which might seriously threaten our entire system of government if it were materially increased.

These are the underlying factors which the calmer minds of the Legislature are striving to strip of emotionalism in order that they may be resolved into a bill that will check extravagance in administration and render to the worthy unemployed the maximum aid that the taxpayer can give without danger of bankruptcy to the State.

EXPERT SAYS PEOPLE WON IN WRANGLING AT SACRAMENTO

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

WHEN the books are balanced on the special session of the State Legislature, which has held the spotlight at Sacramento during the last few weeks, there will be both "profit" and "loss" items in the ledger.

But on the whole, the special legislative session has indicated a healthy determination on the part of a majority of the legislators to clamp down on governmental abuses and to put an end to the worst debauch of public spending in the State's history.

The special session balance sheet will probably show more "profit" for the long-suffering taxpayer than any other for many years past—and California taxpayers owe a very real debt of gratitude to members of the Legislature who have refused to be stampeded into voting millions in new taxes.

From all indications, at this writing, nearly all of Governor Olson's proposed $50,000,000 tax programs—including new income taxes, new taxes on gas and oil, new business franchise taxes and many other taxes—will be swept up by the janitors, instead of becoming a part of the State's top-heavy tax structure.

The relief problem—biggest and most difficult factor in the tax problem—is still far from permanent solution, but some progress, at least, has been made. Public airing of scandalous abuses in the SRA has been helpful in focusing attention on the need for tightening up the purse strings and breaking the domination of "pressure groups," Communists and political manipulators in the relief set-up.

And members of the bi-partisan economy bloc, who turned on the light in dark places—and then demanded a cleanup with a decent regard for the rights of the people who foot the bill—have rendered California a signal service. Revelations of reckless waste and extravagance, chiseling, radical infiltration, needless duplication, inefficiency, political favoritism and haphazard, incompetent administration became so conclusive and startling that even some of the legislators who had previously defended the policy of unrestricted spending for relief were forced to change position. And yet there is every reason to believe that the investigations thus far have only pricked the surface.

Perhaps the most convincing evidence of abuses in the relief system, which have cost California taxpayers millions of dollars, came to the Legislature in a report from the Los Angeles SRA chapter of the California State Employees' Association.

The employee group, representing those engaged in administration of relief in Los Angeles County, made the unqualified charge that one-third of those receiving State relief are chiselers, or worse.

It divided relief recipients into three classes—about equal in number: "First, Those undoubtedly deserving. Second, Those doubtfully deserving, a group which consists of many families which have always lived precariously, and whose present dole constitutes a security wage comparable with past earnings. Third, Those undoubtedly not deserving to be supported by American taxpayers."

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE

MEET one person who has forged steadily ahead throughout the depression, adding to his payroll at the rate of 60,000 persons a year—Uncle Sam! Though the news will not be calculated to cause widespread joy, a dispatch the other day from Washington, D.C., makes important reading. Exclusive of employees in military, legislative and judicial establishments, the total number of employees under civil service has now reached 987,538—topping by 50,000 the previous all-time high of 939,876 reached last September. Seven years ago the Federal payroll stood at 653,847. In the intervening period the number has almost doubled. The Reorganization Plan, passed by Congress in the interests of economy and efficiency, has resulted in the addition of 101,772 employees. This accounting of Uncle Sam's record progress as an employer, made by the United States Civil Service Commission, is a telling indication of the growth of governmental power, and the multiplication of agencies, bureaus and commissions that so far shows no sign of abating. Have you stopped to think where we are drifting?

The total valuation of all the automobiles produced in 1930 was $5,000,000. The industry can now produce equivalent value in 15 hours.

Neither heads nor hearts triumphed in the Senate in granting Finland $20 million worth of credit to buy non-military supplies in this country. What that beleaguered republic needs is military supplies. Sympathy for her plight, checked by fear of involvement in the European war and of setting a dangerous precedent for other nations, led to this compromise loan proffering partial aid. However, if this country has not granted Finland direct access to the arms she seeks, neither has it remained a coldly indifferent spectator to her plight. Far more affected by the outcome of the struggle being waged in the shadow of the Arctic Circle are Britain and France. Sentiment on Capitol Hill that it is to them, Finland should turn for her military loan, rather than to us, played an important, if unpublicized part, in earmarking that $20 million loan for strictly non-military purchases.

Four-fifths of the weight of the modern automobile consists of metal products. At least 19 different metals enter into the chassis and power plant either directly or in alloys. Included are: aluminum, antimony, barium, brass, bronze, cadmium, chromium, copper, indium, iron, lead, manganese, molybdenum, nickel, silver, tin, tungsten, vanadium and zinc.

Jobs in industry have increased to a point where today more people are employed in the distribution of goods than worked in all U.S. manufacturing at the turn of the century.

Already the hub of the nation's aircraft industry, California may soon be due to receive additional acclaim in that field. Negotiations have already begun, it is announced, to bring the huge $3 million plant of the Boeing aircraft company from Seattle, and re-establish it on the 2200 acres available at San Francisco Municipal Airport. Adding to California's booming airplane manufacturing industry which is now keeping 36,000 men at work on a backlog of $238,600,000 worth of orders, the $3 million Boeing plant and its 6000 employees, would make that State not only the hub of the industry but virtually the whole works. And that's an honor with rich rewards, with its $4 million monthly payroll!

The first menu was invented in 1489, by a German nobleman, Henry of Brunswick, who had his cook list all the foods in the order of their services—so he could save his appetite for the foods he liked best!

California prunes are moving into market with the federal government providing the capital through the Surplus Commodities Corporation. The present purchases will total 15,000 tons and represent an expenditure of $900,000. More interesting is the announcement that the surplus commodities corporation in the past six years has spent nearly $9,000,000 for California prunes, the largest federal assistance for any distressed farm group in the United States outside of benefit payments. Prunes purchased under the program go for relief purposes and will not enter normal market channels.

Citrus Juices Speed Recovery After Operations

Patients who drink large quantities of orange and lemon juice before undergoing major operations may be discharged from hospitals 30 to 40 per cent quicker than those who do not drink citrus juice. This is what Dr. Lawrence E. Detrick, research associate in chemistry at the University of California at Los Angeles, told the American College of Surgeons which met in Los Angeles recently.

Dr. Detrick cited the work of Dr. S. James Barbrecht of Chicago who, for the past 10 years has been feeding his patients citrus juices before and after operations and has obtained some remarkably speedy recoveries.

most 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline every day during 1939, to set a new record for the use of motor vehicle fuel, according to the State Board of Equalization. Actual consumption during the period amounted to 1,810,768,366 gallons, or 4,961,009 gallons each day, a gain of 5.27 per cent over the previous year.

Echoes of pre-World-War days sounded through the chambers of a House Appropriations committee the other day when Chairman Scrugham urged his co-members to approve a history-making $906,772,878 appropriation for the Navy. Why ought it to be granted? "Because," cried Rep. Scrugham warningly, "civilization itself may be at stake in the European war!" If, in addition to providing for our own essential national defense, we are preparing to defend civilization in Europe, Rep. Scrugham should inform the country of it.

Fifteen million acres of paper is a blanket which would cover more than five times the area of the state of Connecticut, but it is the quantity of newsprint used in the United States this year," R. S. Kellogg, secretary of the Newsprint Service Bureau, New York, told the New Haven Advertising club recently.

Five Are Elected To Local YMCA Board

J. S. Billheimer, Clarence Hunt-singer, R. R. Hartman, S. E. McElfresh and E. W. Ward, Jr., were elected to serve on the Sierra Madre board of the YMCA, Santa Anita District council, at the annual meeting Tuesday evening at El Monte. Dick Patterson, Friendly Indian chief, and grammar school student, accompanied the Sierra Madreans to the meeting. Mr. McElfresh is leader of the Friendly Indians.

An address and charge to the newly elected board members was given by Fred M. Hansen, area executive secretary of the Pacific Southwest. Ten minutes of moving pictures showing the 2,000 boys from the various Friendly Indian Tribes at the big pow wow at Pomona last year and a short reel from Jenks Lake YMCA camp concluded the program. E. J. Simonds, of Monrovia, is district secretary.

Lessen Ant Troubles By Early Action Authority Urges

Ants have been somewhat active all winter due to the unusually high temperatures which have prevailed. They will soon be out in great numbers on their spring foraging campaign to restore depleted food supplies in their underground nests.

Kenneth L. Smeyer, Assistant Los Angeles County Farm Advisor, says that during the early spring food survey certain ants are easily poisoned since their natural food supply of honeydew, secreted by aphids and other insects, is at a minimum. Poison baits put out early are most acceptable by the ants and results are generally good. The Argentine, odorless and native gray ant, will take sweetened ant poisons found on the market under several proprietary names or a Government formula which may be purchased at some wholesale drug companies.

For best results these sweetened poisons must be placed at frequent intervals along the trails and near the nest of ants. The bait should be kept fresh at all times and replenished at intervals of two to three weeks. Persistence is the key to all ant control.

Points Out Danger To Children In Flying Kites

Safety rules for kite flying which will avoid possible dangers for children were pointed out yesterday by Fred Schwartz, manager for the Southern California Edison company Ltd. in this territory.

"The Edison Company is joining other electric, telephone and street railway companies throughout the country in warning children to keep their kites away from overhead lines," said Mr. Schwartz.

"Kites should be flown only in open spaces where there is no likelihood of their coming into contact with electric lines. Children should not pull at a kite which has become entangled in electric lines or make any attempt to remove it and under no circumstances should they climb a pole. A telephone call to the company to which the wires belong will bring a lineman with proper equipment to take the kite safely from the lines.

"Metal or metallized cord should never be used in construction of a kite. It is dangerous to make kite strings of wire, tinsel cord or any cord with metal strands because such materials are conductors of electricity. It is important also to remember that the kite cord should be kept off the ground for a wet cord becomes a conductor of electricity when it touches an electric line.

MONTAIGNE'S 'GREAT REGISTER'

IF EVERYTHING else that gifted writer, Michael Equem de Montaigne, wrote were to disappear, the world would still be indebted to him for his ideas on what he called his "great register."

Montaigne was a Frenchman who lived and wrote 400 years ago. Now admired excessively by a few readers, he's almost forgotten by the world at large. But every time you read an advertisement in your newspaper, you do homage to his memory.

For it was his idea that people, who want to buy, need some place where they can get information about the products which others have to sell. In Montaigne's time the buyer had to look for the seller, the seller had to look for the buyer.

Montaigne proposed a register to be posted where all might see. Here the owners of things they wanted to sell would list them. Here also those who had needs would list their needs. Buyer and seller would thus be brought together.

It was a good idea. It still is a good idea. Every time, indeed, you look over the "ads" in your newspaper you express your approval of the idea.

Sellers tell you what they have.

Charles Roth

You save time and money because you compare what one seller offers with what another offers. You judge which is the better value.

Norman Angell, the English writer, wished that someone had advertised more in England when he set out to buy a horse scraper for some farming operations he had on hand.

He scanned the advertisements. No scrapers. He wrote a few manufacturers he knew. No scrapers. Later he came to America and in Chicago discovered, through an advertisement, of a horse scraper for sale. He looked into the matter—and found it was made within 20 miles of his English farm.

That you have a "great register" coming to you regularly, with the day's best opportunities to buy the things you need, is one of the beauties of living in America and in these modern times.

You do not, like Mr. Angell, have to fret and worry and search for what you need. You merely open the pages of the newspaper, and, lo, there right in front of you, you find a world of useful things from all over the world.

The more you rely upon the "great register" of modern life to help you in your buying, the more you get from every penny you spend. The best values, the best merchandise, the best prices—they comprise the contents of that useful, indispensable modern version of Montaigne's sound idea.

INSURANCE

The citizens of Sierra Madre will be proud of the fact that the fire loss for the year of 1939 was less than $1,000.00. This unbelievably low figure is due directly to the carefulness of our citizens in their homes and to our excellent fire department.

We extend hearty congratulations to each member of the fire department and to every resident of Sierra Madre on this exceptionally creditable condition.

Women Demonstrate Home Bottling Of Citrus Juices

Some very interesting experiments in home bottling of citrus juices are being conducted by Mrs. Margaret Todd of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California, and women of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau.

"This method for home canning of citrus and other fruit juices has been perfected by the Fruit Products Laboratory of the University at Berkeley and is an entirely new procedure," says Mrs. Todd. "It is one which prevents loss of Vitamin C and retains a desirable flavor in the product." Mrs. Todd is holding demonstrations at farm home department meetings where the home bottling of orange juice will be shown. Nearest of these demonstrations at Sierra Madre will be held at 10 o'clock today at the home of Mrs. G. E. Edwards, 1127 Cherry-lee Drive, El Monte, and any interested person may attend.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

Because there are no fire calls and because there are no tickets to sell, does not mean that the fire department is not active. At each semi-monthly drill and meeting fire prevention and methods of fighting fire continues to be studied. Our city is growing rapidly and now exceeds the population of many other communities where fires occur regularly. This cannot be all luck. In a city of the size of Sierra Madre where there are many frame buildings that are heated in the winter by open fire places and stoves with light stove pipes, we cannot help but appreciate the public's interest and cooperation that makes it necessary to call all the department so seldom and to hold the per capita fire loss so low.

Because Arturo Godoy of South America insisted on staying in the ring for 15 rounds with Joe Louis on the other evening, our regular fire drill was delayed for quite a while. Louie Karger is no Chilean, but he does like Chili Beans in a big way. Therefore he was pulling hard and rooting for the Godoy boy. At times when Godoy had Louis up against the ropes, L. Karger was in imminent danger of toppling off his chair as he went through the moves he thought Godoy should make.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS A SONG LEADER

Experiences of a soldier in the World War, who, because his singing was outstanding, was recognized and given a new job—that of training song leaders for the service—were told by Hollis Davenny, Kiwanis California-Nevada district song leader at Tuesday's luncheon meeting. John S. Billheimer, music chairman, introduced Mr. Davenny who spoke on "Music in the Air." Mr. Davenny sang several solos and led group singing assisted by Dr. M. H. A. Peterson and Gus Rihard, pianist.

State Income Hits A New High Spot

But Huge Increase Over Previous Years Fell Far Short In Spending Spree

The largest biennial income in the history of California, $512,493,692, was received by the state in the two-year period which ended last June 30, State Controller Harry B. Riley reported this week.

In a statement detailing all revenue for the 1937-39 biennium the controller revealed that the income for that period was $78,500,000 greater than the previous record of $434,000,000 set in 1935-37.

The $512,493,692 income represents State income from all sources. In the 1937-39 biennium the State received an average income of $21,353,487 per month, or $702,046 per day.

Cost of State Government in the two-year period totaled $538,868,822, the controller said.

Of the total revenue $339,331,809 went to the General Fund; the balance of $173,161,883 was deposited in the special funds.

Greatest revenue producer in the two-year period was the retail sales and use tax which yielded $173,121,672, or 51 per cent of the general fund income. Second was the gasoline tax and license which brought $94,880,892 into the special fund. The gas tax accounted for 54.79 per cent of the special fund revenue.

Sierra Madre's O.E.S. Chapter Featured In Welcome To Worthy Grand Matron

Eighteen officers, six past matrons, one past patron and members of the Sierra Madre chapter O.E.S. went to Monterey Park Saturday evening on the occasion of the official visit of the Worthy Grand Matron of the State of California, Helen Louise Edwards. Ramona Star Chapter, with Verne Hughes, worthy matron, was hostess chapter, and Sierra Madre was one of the other three chapters which exemplified the work. Alhambra and El Monte chapters were the others. Cecil Sterling Price, worthy matron of the local chapter, gave the good of the order and had charge of the program.

After the entrance of the four chapters, the flags were escorted and the pledge of allegiance given. Entrance of Worthy Grand Matron and her escort, John Valle, junior past patron, preceded that of the grand officers and visiting past matrons.

Mary Wammock, Harriett Buckingham, Muriel Tarr, Helen Sandage, Edna Holland and Frances Brain were presented as past matrons and C. H. Sandage as past patron. Miss Price presented for the four chapters, a gift of gold, which had been given to her grandmother on her golden wedding day, to the Worthy Grand Matron.

Marienda, second in a series of International teas sponsored this season by the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. J. Andrew Hall at the home of Mrs. Charles Hamilton, 585 West Grand View avenue.

Drawing on the 37 years she spent in the Philippines, Mrs. Hall gave a charmingly informal talk on the life, costumes and arts of the people, evidencing that during her life there she had come very close to the natives, achieving an understanding of their life which is rarely shown by Americans. She wore colorful native costume of the Moro woman, which was simply fashioned from Chinese cotton, hand loomed and attractively patterned with bright native dyes. Mrs. Hamilton wore the native dress of the Igorot woman, complete to head band to which a large basket may be affixed for carrying fruits.

Mrs. Hall exhibited many fine sleeping mats which had been presented to her and Dr. Hall; a complete miniature bamboo nipa house, a native staff decorated with feathers which is used in corn planting, many interesting pictures and other articles of interest.

Miss Jeanette Jeacon, of Altadena, who was born in Manila, sang a group of Philippine songs accompanied by Miss Jean Hall. Miss Jeacon was gownied in the formal dress of women in Manila.

Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger and Mrs. Hall presided at the tea table which was centered with a bowl of sweet peas and laden with delicious Philippine foods, including Mango tarts and Ibos, prepared from ground rice and coconut wrapped in banana leaves and boiled.

Ask Curbing Of Young Speeders

Legislature Urged To Outlaw Organizations That "Burn Up The Highways"

Sierra Madre's "Night Riders" and the "Road Ramblers" and similar organizations of young motorists throughout southern California were perturbed yesterday over a demand sent to Sacramento by the San Diego grand jury that legislation be enacted outlawing these organizations.

The grand jury pointed out the "qualifying provision for membership in such organization is the possession of an auto capable of making high speeds," and that since formation of the clubs two years ago, the qualifying rate of speed has been raised from 70 to 95 miles per hour. It was further asserted that by "burning up the roads" youthful members of these organizations are making the highways of southern California unsafe.

Since the Sierra Madre police department became generous with its citations for speeding on Sierra Madre blvd. and other through streets there have not been so many complaints about the disposition of youthful motorists hereabouts to regard the highways as speedways but for a time the police were deluged with complaints from citizens who asserted their lives had been jeopardized by speed maniacs.

One-Act Plays To Feature Talent Here

Young Sierra Madreans Will Appear In Presentations At 4H Club Benefit

A benefit performance under the auspices of the University of California, with proceeds going to the Leaders Council of the Los Angeles district of 4-H clubs for the furtherance of character education, will be given this evening, February 23, in the auditorium of Woodrow Wilson Junior high school, under the direction of Mrs. Waverly Pratt.

The program will open with a one-act comedy, "Three's a Crowd," with Sue Adwell playing the part of Madeline; Clay Reavis, Jr., Elmer; George Thompson, Mr. Johnson; Virginia Smith, Ellen, and Lorne Pratt, Eddie. Virginia Smith and Lorne Pratt will also have leading parts in the second play, "Buddy Buys an Orchid."

In addition to the plays the program will include seven specialty acts: a group of songs by Miss Bonita Williams, coloratura soprano of this city; a specialty number, "The Old Fashioned Album," from whose pages will step 15 characters wearing the old-fashioned costumes of the past, and selections by the 90-piece San Gabriel Valley Orchestra.

NOTES FROM THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Mrs. MacKenzie's room had an election of officers for the month of February. The following students were elected: William Guardia, president; Eddie Rambeau, vice-president; Donna Jean Perry, secretary; Willard Adams, sergeant-at-arms; Barbara West, inspector-of-desks.

We had a Valentine box in the room made by Wanda Cole, Margaret Gonzales, Margaret Richter, Donna Jean Perry and Helen Askew.

The 7b and 7a boys are now working on mechanical drawing. The 7b and 7a girls are finishing their work on shorts.

Our class have been playing baseball and the boys have been playing basketball in physical education.—Donna Jean Perry.

Miss Snyder's and Mr. Larsen's classes made a field trip to a meat packing plant in connection with the work in world trade.

The pupils were taken through the plant by a guide who explained various processes and gave information as to points of shipping. An interesting time was spent in the afternoon at the Southwest Museum, where a special talk was given the group on England and an exhibit of English pottery and other articles was seen. All voted that a worthwhile day had been spent.

Some Restrictions Found Necessary At Boulder Dam

If you are planning a trip to Las Vegas and Boulder Dam, remember that while sightseers are welcome at the dam, due to the war conditions in Europe, certain precautionary measures have been taken to insure its protection. Aside from the following restrictions, visitors to the huge project have the same opportunity as before to visit the area and take the guided tours.

The restrictions are briefly as follows: 1. Only small cameras are permitted to be taken onto the dam. 2. No camera can be taken down into the power house at the base of the dam. 3. All packages are inspected before they can be taken down in the elevators. No large packages are permitted. 4. Boats are not permitted within one quarter of a mile of the upper face of the dam, nor is fishing allowed in the immediate vicinity of the dam.

Conducted tours through the interior of the dam leave as frequently as necessary between 8 a.m. and 10:15 p.m. on week days and between 7:45 a.m. and 10:15 p.m. on Sundays and holidays.

ARTHUR GOULD MOVES TO LARGER QUARTERS

Increased business of Arthur's Men's Shop in Arcadia has made it necessary for Arthur Gould, former Sierra Madrean, to move his store to larger quarters at 38 East Huntington drive. The change will be made March 4 and to reduce his heavy stock Mr. Gould is offering fine quality merchandise at drastic price cuts.

Tax Suits Unjust To Small Home Owners, Judge Says

Small home owners in areas outlying Los Angeles don't receive a square deal from the county in filing tax suits in the Los Angeles municipal court, Judge H. Leonard Kaufman of the Compton Justice Court declared in a letter to County Tax Collector H. L. Byram. Judge Kaufman said most of the actions are against the small home owner and many who might have a defense to the actions will suffer because they are financially unable to go to Los Angeles. "These people are caused inconvenience which in numerous cases results in miscarriage of justice," the judge said.

Singers From Piney Woods School To Sing Here March 13

The concert is free with an offering for the school.

Lowered Electric Rates Fail To Satisfy City

cadia and Monrovia, where the present rate for 100 kilowatt hours is $4.25 and for 150 kilowatt hours, $6.00. Under the new schedule Arcadia and Monrovia residents will enjoy a reduction in these rates comparable with the reduction Sierra Madreans receive.

Commercial rates in this city are reduced an average of 6.5 per cent with a maximum saving of 9.8 per cent for customers using 1,000 kilowatt hours of electric energy per month. Here again, the larger users receive the greatest reduction. The existing commercial rate for 200 kilowatt hours is $9.80. Under the new schedule it will be $9.30, a saving of 50c or 5.1 per cent. Commercial users of 500 kilowatt hours are charged $24.20 under the present schedule and under the new one they would pay $22.20, a reduction of $2.00 or 8.3 per cent.

"Our application to the Railroad Commission was for a reduction in rates in Sierra Madre that would give our citizens the same rate as that enjoyed by our neighbors in Monrovia and Arcadia," said Councilman Thomas Schwartz last night, "and of course neither citizens nor the council can be satisfied with the new schedule just announced. We still believe there is no sound reason for discriminating against Sierra Madre. I cannot speak for the council, but I predict that the council will vote to resubmit our application for a reduction that will give Sierra Madre the same lower rate enjoyed by surrounding communities."

Recall Elections Threaten In Nearby Communities; Arcadia On The Verge Of Another Of Its Upheavals

One nearby community is in the turmoil of a recall election and another, Arcadia, which has already won the unenviable reputation of being the most contentious community in the state, is on the verge of another of a long series of these unpleasant experiences. Still another nearby city, Alhambra, has been infected with the blighting recall germ and a campaign to recall the district school board is being organized.

Promoters of an effort to recall the mayor of South Pasadena yesterday proposed a compromise that would obviate the necessity of going through with an election there, but under terms that were so unreasonable that Mayor Jacobs felt he could not honorably accept them. The proposition was that he retire as mayor, though continuing his membership in the city council and join in the election of one of his colleagues as mayor.

Chronic malcontents in Arcadia which suffered seemingly endless unpleasant notoriety just a few months ago have launched a recall movement against four of that city's five councilmen at the April election. Commenting on the latest indication that Arcadia is an unhappy city and not a very desirable place in which to reside the Arcadia Tribune says:

"If six individuals who have affixed their names to another recall movement succeed in progressing through the successive stages toward their avowed goal, Arcadia is to be smeared by another upheaval in civic government."

"But there are hopeful indications that Arcadia will not tolerate another smearing."

Arcadia, only a few months ago, worked its way out of a political tangle which had left the city without a normally functioning government for weeks.

"Popular sentiment then, when that tangle was settled, was pledged behind the established city government and, in the light of that sentiment, there is reason to believe that the majority of the citizens will not tolerate another such demonstration."

City Water Problem Solved By Huge Land Purchase

water to the upper level water zone now served by the Auburn avenue reservoir where it is necessary to lift water a total of approximately 600 feet from city wells at the Sierra Madre blvd. pumping plant during the summer months and 250 feet from the city's tunnel supply during the winter months.

Investigation as to the feasibility of development has been carried on by members of the present council took office. Both the council's water committee and the entire council have made extensive surveys in the area.

In a report by J. Ralph Shoemaker, water expert who is serving the city in the Pasadena water litigation and who recently made a survey of the project for the city, he pointed out that for a period of 20 years, or from 1916 to 1936 there was a total of only seven months in which there was not a surface flow at the Quarter Way house on the Mt. Wilson trail. Further upstream the surface flow has been continuous. The average flow during the six dry months of the year runs from four to 19-acre feet per month. It is anticipated that full use of present stream water in sight without appreciable further development would reflect savings in pumping costs in excess of $140 monthly.

Of special interest is the historical background of this area, which was first opened up in 1864 by Don Benito Wilson, after whom Mt. Wilson was named and who constructed the Mt. Wilson trail with Indian labor for the purpose of bringing out timber. The property now known as Orchard Camp and presently operated by the Martins was home-steaded by George Islip and George Alken. Mt. Islip in the Sierra Madre range was named after George Islip. Their home-stead was later abandoned and then taken up by Captain Fred Staples who subsequently disposed of the property to A. G. Strain, whose heirs have just concluded sale of the one-half interest to the City of Sierra Madre.

The old Quarter Way house also included in the property, was built in 1888 by Emil Deutsch, an old resident of Sierra Madre, later becoming part of the Strain property.

In 1915-16 the city council started the survey and subsequent construction of a six-inch pipe line to the Quarter Way house, this line being placed in operation in 1918 and serving the upper portion of the city. It was later allowed to go into disrepair and during the 1935 flood the intake and parts of the line were destroyed. The present council plans repair and re-routing of the line over a terrain more accessible and in a location where it can be more easily maintained. The council also contemplates development of the water at its source so as to insure an absolutely safe and permanent additional water supply.

Papers Taken Out For 5 Candidates

Leland Fogg And Robert Henrotin Said To Be Likely Council Aspirants

Nominating petitions were issued at the city hall this week for five prospective candidates for the four city offices to be filled at the April 9 municipal election, but no further nominating petitions were filed. Officially there are three candidates so far for the two councilmanic places to be filled and City Treasurer Pegler and City Clerk Pratt are without known opposition.

It is reported that nominating petitions have been signed up for Robert Henrotin of Sierra Madre Canyon, and Leland Fogg of West Orange Grove avenue, as candidates for the city council and that these papers will be filed tomorrow or Monday. Candidates have until Saturday, March 9, in which to file their petitions.

Signers to the nominating petition of Mayor W. J. Schlitz are: Charles L. Washburn, Dr. W. H. Scolin, F. C. Herrmann, Lloyd B. Welch, Joseph P. Nash, H. F. Roberts, A. J. Dewey, Sr., Woodson F. Jones, Robert L. Fitzwilliams, James O. McCavitt.

The Mayor's petition was circulated by Reading L. Davis.

Official notice of the election has been issued by City Clerk Pratt, the city council having designated four polling places to be used. Voting precincts 1 and 3 will be consolidated and the polling place to be known as Precinct A, will be at the city hall. Precincts 2, 4 and 9 are consolidated as precinct B and the polling place will be in the park house in the city park. Precincts 6 and 7 are consolidated as precinct C and the polling place will be at 102 East Mira Monte avenue. Precinct D consists of state and county precincts 5 and 6 with the polling place at the Masonic Temple.

Rangers Train For Instruction In Skiing Here

A four-day ski school sounds like fun. Forest Ranger C. Ellisworth Harlan from the Santa Anita station said it was, but it involved a lot of hard work and he returned to his job tired and sore. Forty-three forest service men from the Oregon line south attended the school, which was recreational development in the form of training—teaching rangers to ski and hike through snow. The men went to Jalena Creek, a famous ski field close to Reno, at an elevation of 8,000 feet, and from morning until night put in long hours to prepare themselves for action in the snow.

The Charlton-Chilao area, directly north of Sierra Madre, usually has two or three feet of snow, but this year the scant four inches that fell February 2 has all melted. Before actual development of the territory as a winter sports area, a study must be made to determine the number of people who are interested in such activities. But, with the weather very mild this winter, it has been difficult to determine this number because there has not been enough snow to ski or toboggan.

Before beginning on winter sports facilities, camping grounds and picnic places which are about 80 per cent finished, will be completed.

Big Uptrend In Business Is Certain

Valley Businessmen Told Of Definitely Improved Economic Conditions

Business in southern California is definitely on the upgrade with this section of the country the white spot of the nation. That was the opinion of Ed Thomas, general passenger agent for the Pacific Electric Railway Company, who spoke Tuesday evening at the Azusa Woman's Club at an Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting which William L. Burr, John Fitzgerald and N. F. Graham, local agent, attended.

Basing his statements on statistics furnished by the "Nation's Business," Mr. Thomas said the Pacific Electric Company in line with the coming prosperity has a two year plan to modernize, rebuild and install new equipment. Pacific Electric travel has increased greatly and the innovations will be made to keep in step with the times.

Taking the aviation industry as an example, Mr. Thomas said the Douglas plant alone has enough orders on hand to keep it going at full capacity for the next five years, employing 5,000 men. Cotton raising is another industry which is coming to the front, and with 150,000 new people coming to Southern California yearly, as well as many large businesses in this part of the state, it looks like good times ahead. Shipping and freighting of commodities out of the state has also increased greatly, Mr. Thomas added.
